Welcome to the third EcoAgeing newsletter!

Our EcoAgeing Workshops have been implemented in all countries

In the first half of 2026 the Eco Ageing workshops were implemented in Türkiye, Austria, France, Greece and Spain. The format of this intergenerational exchange on climate issues was well perceived and helped to better understand each others concerns and exchange knowledge.

Lessons learned have been integrated in the guide for workshop and booklet for young people which are available on the website now.

They are a great help if you want to promote intergenerational collaboration to tackle climate change by bringing together older adults (50+) and young people (18-30 years old) through workshops and educational activities.

Next steps:

1. Forth transnational meeting:

The forth EcoAgeing in-person meeting will take place in Ankara (Türkiye) next October. During the meeting, we will review all the activities carried out so far and set deadlines for the next tasks.

2. Mobile application:

A mobile app with gamified activities to make climate education fun and accessible for retirees, helping them learn about climate change, use digital tools easily, and collaborate with young people for sustainable change. The app is available now in all languages.

3. Final national events:

In all partner countries there will be final multiplier events to promote the results amongst stakeholders and multipliers until the end of the year. If you want to know more, contact with our partners in your country. We are happy to collaborate with you.
